

Criminal Team Tenancy Vacancies

Doughty Street Chambers always wants to attract highly talented barristers who might be interested in joining our unique set of chambers across all of our practice areas. Our specialist criminal team is seeking established practitioners, in all ranges of call. The team undertakes serious and complex criminal cases, including political, sensitive and commercial crime. Members also major in extradition, international criminal law, disciplinary work and criminal related inquests, inquiries and judicial review, within a large diversified set specialising in all aspects of human rights work. For details of our particular current needs and how to apply, and for prompt and completely confidential consideration of your position, please call or email our Chambers Director, Robin Jackson, or our Practice Director, Martin Griffiths:
