Claims Against Internet Intermediaries

Peter has particular expertise in cases involving social media and internet publications and significant experience in bringing claims directly against Facebook, Google, Twitter and other internet intermediaries.

- Mufassil Islam v Facebook (2021) - Peter was led by Edward Fitzgerald in an action brought by a political activist/ spokesperson against extremist ideology including radical Islam. The plaintiff had been subjected to death threats and abuse posted by radical Islamic extremists. He also claimed against Facebook in respect of censorship and termination of his popular and verified Facebook accounts. Belfast Telegraph.
- Jim Corr v Twitter (2021) - Peter acts for the musician and activist Jim Corr in respect of his claim against Twitter for censorship and termination of his popular and verified Twitter account arising from a disputed breach of the Twitter policy on Covid-19 misleading information. Independent.
- CDP v Snap Group Limited (2021) - Peter acted for the plaintiff in an application for anonymity with related reporting restrictions and for a Norwich Pharmacal Order in a claim relating to the harassment and attempted blackmail of CDP by use of unlawfully obtained naked images of CDP perpetrated via Snap Chat. Belfast Telegraph.
- FB1 v Facebook (TPI Intervening) (Dec 2020) (Unrep) - Peter acted for the third-party intervenor in a successful challenge to an interim injunction granted to FB1 for the removal of Facebook postings published by her and which related to being the victim of a sexual assault perpetrated by FB1 and her experiences in the subsequent criminal trial of FB1. Belfast Live.
- L v Bumble (2020) - Peter acted for the plaintiffs in respect of a claim in privacy and breach of copyright brought against an online dating platform arising out of use of an image of the plaintiffs harvested online by the defendants as part of an advertising campaign on Instagram.

- K v PrettyLittleThing.com (2020) - Peter acted for the plaintiff in a libel claim in respect of tweets published by the defendant (and widely reported upon by mainstream media) which alleged that the plaintiff had made a bogus complaint in order to gain notoriety on social media and scam the defendant.
- Kelly v Facebook (2018) - Peter acted for the plaintiff in respect of a libel claim brought against Facebook. The High Court accepted the plaintiff's defamatory meanings and rejected Facebook's pleaded meanings and justification defence.
- CG v Facebook Ireland Ltd. [2015] NIQB 11 and [2017] EMLR 12 - Peter acted as lead advocate in the High Court for the plaintiff successfully obtaining an award of damages of £20,000 against Facebook for failing to take down violent and irresponsible postings in breach of his common law right to privacy. On appeal the Court of Appeal upheld the finding of liability on the alternative ground of breach of personal data rights and reduced the award. The Court of Appeal decision is considered a landmark ruling in respect of the scope of the E-Commerce defence available to internet intermediaries such as Facebook. Irish Times.
- AY (a child) v Facebook Ireland Ltd. [2016] NIQB 76 - Peter, led by Edward Fitzgerald QC, acted for a plaintiff who, as a minor, was coerced into providing sexually explicit images which were then posted to a "revenge" site on Facebook. Faced with the difficult question of whether the suggested use of photo DNA software to target and block indecent images amounted to an impermissible monitoring obligation on Facebook, the Court ruled in favour of the plaintiff and refused Facebook's application to strike out the claim. The case later resolved on confidential terms with a costs order being made against Facebook. Irish Times.
- Galloway v Google Incorporated [2016] NIQB 7 - Peter, acting as lead advocate, succeeded in establishing jurisdiction of the Court on behalf of George Galloway against Google Inc. in respect of claims in libel, privacy and harassment arising from videos published on YouTube. BBC.
- CB v Google Incorporated (2015) - Peter, acting as lead advocate, succeeded in establishing jurisdiction of the Court on behalf of CB in respect of entries on Google search alleging that CB was an informant.
- AB v Facebook Ireland Ltd. and Others [2013] NIQB 14 - Peter, acting as lead advocate, successfully applied for an injunction and an award of damages against a "troll" who had tried to conceal his identity and evade the Court's jurisdiction through the use of a pseudonym. The Court awarded £35,000 damages to the plaintiffs. Inform.

- KG v AW Systems Ltd (t/a adultwork.com) [2014] NI Master 14 - Peter, acting as lead advocate, obtained an order for £28,000 damages in respect of the online publication of photographs of the plaintiff of a highly personal and sexual nature.
- HL (a child) v Facebook Ireland Limited [2013] NIQB 25 and [2014] NIQB 101 and [2015] NIQB 61 61 - Peter acted for the plaintiff, led by Edward Fitzgerald QC, in respect of a multifaceted claim centred upon the failure of Facebook to prevent children and adolescents from accessing their network and the absence of valid consent on the part of the child plaintiff to consent to its terms and conditions. Irish Times.
